Remembrance Day
and National Indigenous Veterans Day

"When you go home, tell them of us and say, for their tomorrow
we gave our today."

November 2023

November 8th is National Aboriginal Veterans Day. It is a separate day from November 11th as a commemoration of the contributions of Indigenous veterans in both the First and Second World Wars, as well as the Korean War.

We express our gratitude for the many contributions Indigenous veterans have made to Canada and the world.
